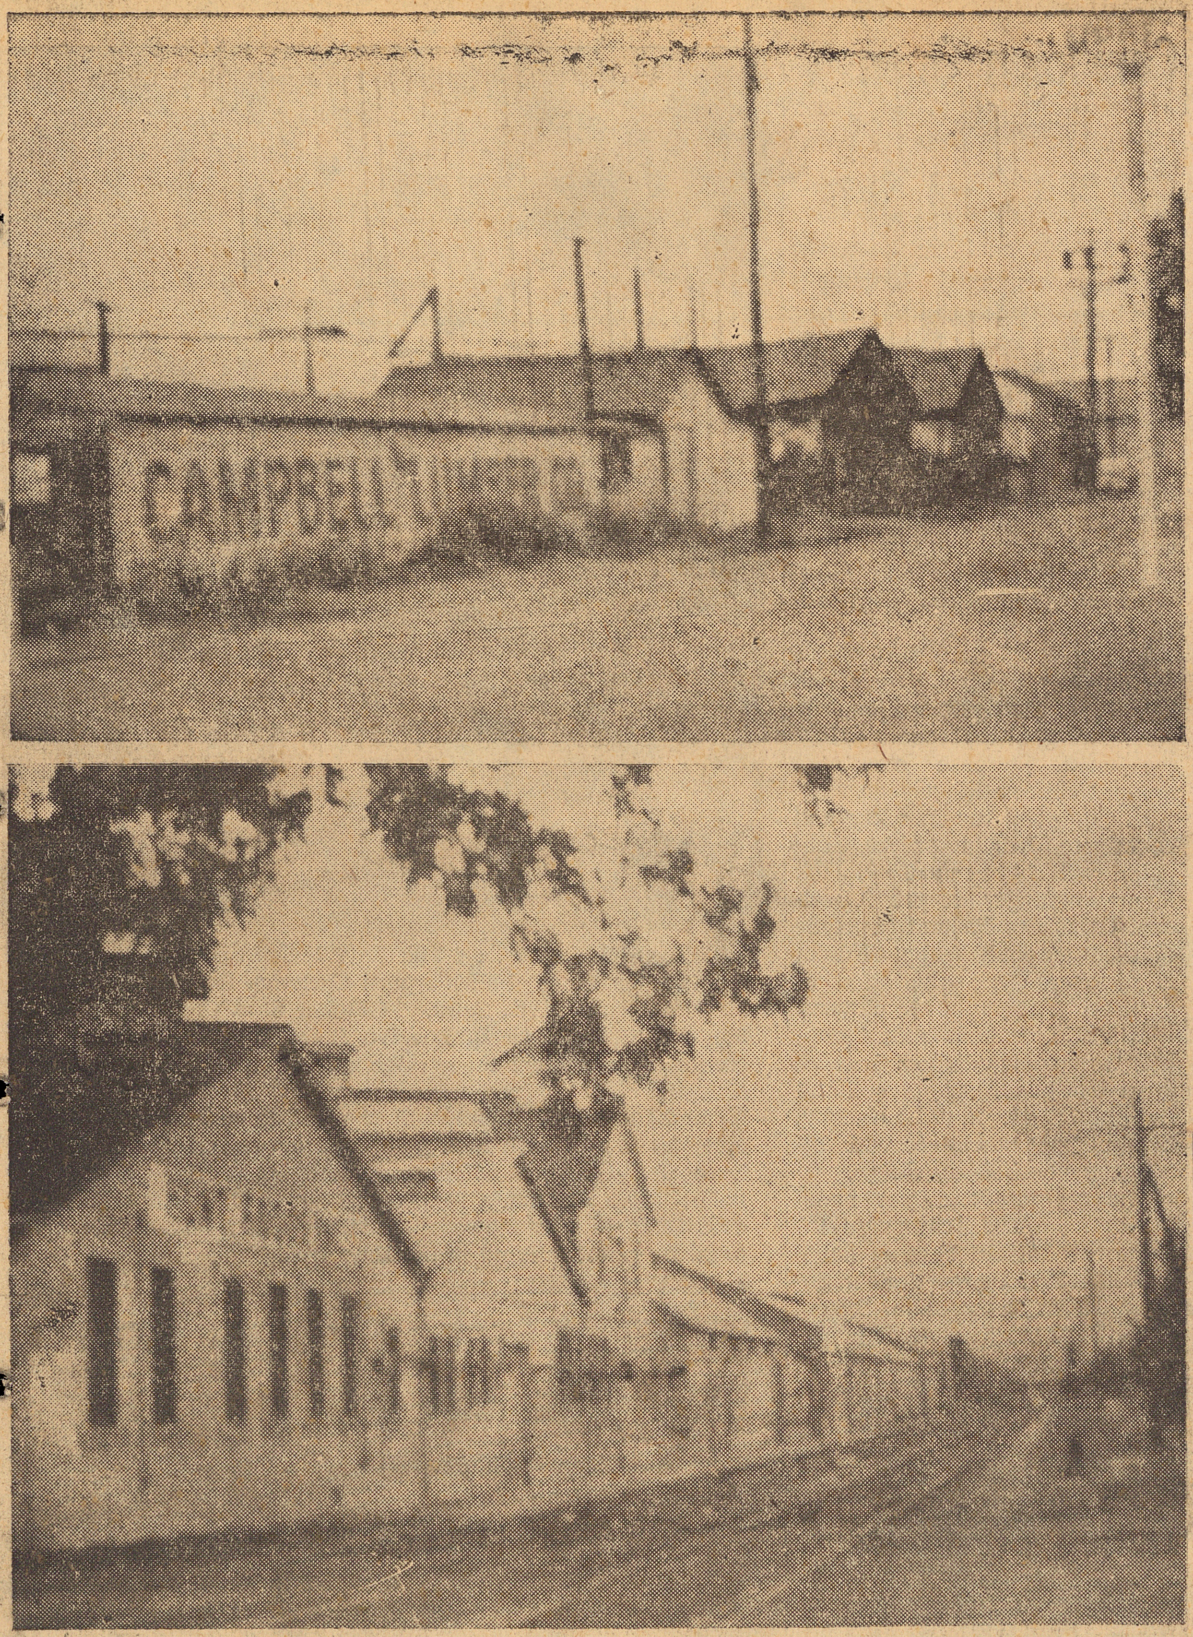
Vol. 65, No. 38 — CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA — 10c — Thurs., Oct. 3, 1957



WHAT'S WRONG WITH THESE PICTURES? . . . Sagging roofs, unpainted exteriors, broken windows and ancient signs telling of long dormant operations at their locations present an unattractive appearance for the entrance to the main business section of Campbell. Considerable face-lifting has been done to many sections of Campbell in recent months. Undeniably there are some other spots that could go for a lift, also. Campbell Press photos.

City Plans Suits Against Hamilton Ave. Holdouts

Three property owners on Hamilton Ave., who have thus far refused to accept the City of Campbell's offer for their property that was needed for the recently-completed Hamilton Ave.-widening project will face condemnation suits totaling $3,625. the City Council ruled Monday night. The total cost of obtaining the right-of-way came to $51,000.

The three, C. E. DeTracey, ($1208), 197 E. Hamilton, Fred F. Fellman, ($1650), 102 E. Hamilton and Robert C. Luhdorff, ($767), 199 E. Hamilton, are the lone hold-outs in the 21 parcels involved when Hamilton was widened from Winchester Road to Central Ave. All the other property owners accepted the appraisals made by Claire Wilson and Louis A. Cavala, certified appraisers employed by the City. The City has had the money on deposit for the property since the start of negotiations so that there would be no delay in the project.

The unprecedented action by the City Council authorizing City Attorney Joseph Bonacina to file suit against the three property owners came on the heels of the final report on the negotiations by Bonacina to the Council.

In his report, Bonacina estimated that it would cost the City approximately $3500 to bring the cases to court and that a settlement probably could be made with the property owners for a less figure than that.

He pointed out that there was only $350 between the city's offer of $1650 and Fellman's price of $2,000; only $450 in Luhdorff's case ($767 to $1217) and only $792 for De Tracey ($1208 to $2000) or a total differential of $1592. Thus the City could save money by acceding to the prices of the three property owners instead of taking it to court.

The Council, however, was unanimous in rejecting any out-of-court settlement in the matter and directing Bonacina to prepare for trial.

Councilman Richard Morton apparently expressed the feelings of the Council when he said that it would not be fair to those property owners who had previously agreed to the city's appraisals to pay more to the three just because they held out. He also added that it would be setting a dangerous precedent for the City's projects in the future. He pointed out that 90 per cent of the property owners had agreed to the appraised prices.

Councilman Charles Rose (incidentally one of the property owners on Hamilton Ave. who was affected) agreed with Morton's stand, adding that the same situation would take place whenever any street was widened in the city.

Bonacina said that he hoped to get the cases on the court calendar by the end of October so the trial could be scheduled before the end of the year.

Third School to Cost $3½ Million

By July 1, 1958, the Campbell Union High School District will have $1½ million available in bond money earmarked to build the third high school in the district, Superintendent Laurance J. Hill reported this week.

With another million dollars from the State (provided the district qualifies), there will be enough money to build the third school, develop the site and furnish the plant, Hill believes.

The third district school to be located just off the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and south of the Sherman Oaks Bowl, will be constructetd as a four-year school to start with an estimated enrollment of 1200 to 1300.

Present plans call for construction to start next spring, and to be completed for the beginning of the fall term in 1959.

No name has been selected as yet for the new school and students are expected to be drawn equally from the two present schools of the district, Hill said.

The district expects the enrollment next fall in the two schools to jump to 4100, an increase of about 650, with 2200 in Campbell and 1900 in Camden. These two schools were built for a maximum capacity of 1750 each.

The superintendent estimates that it will be necessary to build the fourth high school in the district within three years after the completion of the third.

The district already has purchased the sites, one at Harriett and Lovell avenues and the other at Boynton Ave. and Blackford Road. The Harriett-Lovell parcel cost $246,393.49, the Blackford, $304,750, while the San Jose-Los Gatos location cost $468,231.

Planners Again Reject Plans

For the second time in two weeks the Planning Commission on Tuesday denied approval of the plans for a six-unit apartment building at 33 E. Sunnyside Ave.

However, the Planners informally advised Harry Smith, the owner of two lots at that location, that if he would extent his units onto both lots, rather than confining his building to one lot, the plans would probably be approved.

To build six units on one lot, Smith was informed, 12,000 square feet was needed. The lot in question has only 6,000. Smith told the Commission that he did not intend to do anything to the other lot but landscape it. The Planners, however, wanted a guarantee as to a possible future development of the vacant lot not now anticipated.

Smith thought he could make the necessary changes and resubmit the plans for the next meeting.

Board Creates New 'Veep' Job

There is to be a third vice-principal in the Campbell elementary school district as a result of the board's action in creating that position for the Monroe School, William C. Henley, superintendent, reported this week.

Henley said that the district is now accepting applications for the job. Monroe school currently has the largest enrollment in the district. Other vice-principals are at Hamilton School (Don Stephens) and at Campbell (Robert Downing).

Henley reported also that the trustees at their last meeting denied the request of residents in the Casa Blanca Lane area for bus transportation to the Quito School because of hazardous traffic conditions. The board members had personally inspected the route traveled by youngsters before they took final action.

TEACHERS MEET

Campbell elementary teachers on Wednesday of this week held their first monthly teachers' meeting or work shop of the year. The teachers of the district met in groups divided into grade levels, with reading as the subject under discussion. The teachers meet the first Wednesday of every month in the school year.

Pigskin Perils

Never underestimate 'em.

That trite expression again proved it had merit when Mrs. Elaine Carey, of Sunshine Toy and Card, the only woman on panel of six "experts" who are predicting the winners in the weekly football games, this week took undisputed hold on first place when she named nine winners out of 10, missing only the San Jose State-Denver battle.

Out of 20 games, Mrs. Carey has been right 17 times for an 85% rating. Benny Lujan, Campbell High student body president, and Sam Reed, high school principal, are tied for second with 16 winners while Bill Means, Marvin Moore, and Pete Lico, the other panel members, have a record of 13 right and seven wrong.

This week's predictions by the experts can be found on the inside.

Street Job Costs $140,000

Without any ruffle of drums but with the cutting of the traditional ribbon, City of Campbell officials on Wednesday at 10 a.m. dedicated the largest street improvement project in the history of the city, the widening of Hamilton Ave., from Winchester Road to Central Ave..

Although the $140,000 job has been completed for several weeks, it was only officially "opened" yesterday when Mayor John M. Chargin, assisted by 6-year old Linda Butera of San Jose, cut the ribbon stretched across the thoroughfare at Winchester Road. (Linda happened to drive up with her mother just as the city officials went into their act and was immediately drafted for the scissor job.)

The widening project was constructed by the Leo P. Piazza Co. for $89,000. The contract was let last October but inclement weather delayed the work. It was only completed a few weeks ago.

Rights-of-way purchases came to $51,000 for the 1850 foot-length job. The rights-of-way were widened from 40 to 86 feet and the pavement from 28 feet to 48 feet plus shoulder. In addition a 42-inch storm sewer was put in the entire length.

Gas taxes furnished $88,500 for the job while other state subventions totalled $50,000. The City put up $1,500.

The City is now drafting plans to extend the widening of Hamilton from Central Ave. to the Route 5 Freeway, a distance of 750 feet. Storm sewers are also planned for this project. It is estimated that this job including the rights-of-way purchases will total $50,000 with $17,000 of this amount earmarked for rights-of-way.

'CM' Compromise Looks Favorable

Chances for a compromise in the current "Controlled Manufacturing" zoning hassle between landowners on one side and City Planners on the other appeared brighter this week as the Planning Commission began a study of suggested amendments to the ordinance.

It is expected that the new hearing on the revised ordinance with the amendments included will be set at the next meeting of the Commission on October 15. The hearing will probably be on November 4.

Almost all the amendments proposed were a result of a meeting of a committee of landowners and a Planning Commission committee. John Burnett, San Jose attorney, was spokesman for the property owners group headed by Lyn Beatty of Western Gravel with Mark J. Thomas and Warren Brown serving with him.

Chairman Sam O'Brien, and Commissioners Homer Hyde, Richard Salice and James Tomlinson composed the committee of planners. Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, and Joseph Bonacina, city attorney, acted as advisors for them.

According to Chairman O'-Brien, the amendments should "satisfy 99 per cent of the objections" that have been raised against "CM".

City Attorney Bonacina advised the Commission to hold a new hearing on the revised ordinance at a later date rather than continue the first hearing because of the many changes.

He also suggested that Burnett and his clients be advised of the new hearing date. It was also understood that the two committees will meet again before the matter comes before the Commission for final adoption.

The suggested amendments as outlined by Chairman O'Brien more clearly defined "wholesale and retail". ("CM" would prohibit retail sales except those products manufactured on the property.)

Other changes suggested refer to the parking requirements, (no parking in front yards without a prior approval); front yards (must be landscaped but driveways are o.k.); vibration (no noticeable tremor at lot line); glare (all reasonable means should be taken so not to interfere with other property owners); side-yards (must be 25-feet in width except those lots (at time of adoption) that are less than 20,000 square feet. At least 20 per cent must be used for side-yards and no yards less than five feet).

Rail Depot to Close

Southern Pacific's Campbell depot will close Wednesday, October 23, railroad officials announced this week.

No change in service was anticipated by the railroad with freight service carried on as usual except that billing will be handled at San Jose. The railroad will operate a truck shuttle service for certain types of freight and other types will be handled by a field representative at Campbell.

NARROW ESCAPE . . . Miss Lynn was pulled away from the car by a passing motorist, Charles N. Hoyle, of Los Gatos. She was taken to County Hospital where her condition is not considered serious.

Whitehall Again

Petition Requests City to Improve Street Because of Public Safety

"What can be done about Whitehall St.?"

This question, which has been tossed around for many a moon, was submitted to the City Council again Monday when a petition with 20 names was presented asking the City to improve the street in the "interest of public safety".

At periodical intervals the status of Whitehall St., an undedicated and only slightly improved thoroughfare a block off Winchester Road and extending between Sunnyside and Kennedy, has come up for an official ruling.

And each time the ruling has been the same: The street is not a public dedicated thoroughfare and public money can not be used to improve it and the record held true to form Monday.

According to City Attorney Joseph Bonacina the street could be termed "private property with a public easement."

Mrs. F. J. McCarthy, 227 Harrison St., one of the signers of the petition, acted as spokesman for the petitioners, two of whom were present. She asked the Council to make improvements on the street in the "interest of public safety". She said the City had an obligation to do something about Whitehall St. because it was in poor condition when the City was incorporated and nothing has been done about it since.

Mayor John M. Chargin explained that the City could not do anything about it. He added that the City could possibly be legally enjoined from improving it by other taxpayers.

Mrs. McCarthy said that Whitehall was getting particularly heavy use now because it was getting the overflow from Winchester Road.

"If the City can't do anything about Whitehall St.," Mrs. McCarthy wanted to know, "How about doing something about making the heavily traveled Winchester Road safer for those who must walk along it?"

Mayor Chargin said that the conditions on Winchester Road would be improved when the overall improvement program for the City is undertaken. The planned improvement program, he pointed out, is dependent on a favorable vote for the civic improvement bond election that is tentatively planned for next February. He urged Mrs. McCarthy to work for passage of the bond measure.

The Council also instructed the city attorney to study the matter of Whitehall St., further and report to the Council at a later date.

An interesting sidelight to the petition, it was noted, was that only four of the signers reside on Whitehall St., many of those signing also live outside the city limits.

Petitioners residing on Whitehall St., included Mrs. Ollie Ayers, 321 Whitethall St., Mr. and Mrs. William A. Rogers, 390 S. Whitehall, Mrs. J. W. Flowers, 400 Whitehall and Mrs. Iain Stout, 307 Whitehall. Others signing the petition included, Mrs. S. J. Kulish, 712 Aaron Way, Campbell; Mrs. J. R. Ligutasky, 15296 Clydale, San Jose; Mrs. Elaine Keefer, 14933 Bronson, San Jose.

Church Sponsors Program for Senior Adults

Senior adults of Campbell interested in formation of group for social activity and service programs are asked to attend the first organizational meeting which will be held Tuesday, October 15, at 2 p.m. in the Fireside Room of the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave.

The group will be non-sectarian and composed of Campbell's elder citizens who will decide what type of activities they wish to follow. The Congregational Church is sponsoring the program and has offered the use of its facilities to the group.

"This is a timely program to help meet community needs of the growing Campbell areas." states Miss Pauline E. Davis, chairman of the planning committee.

"The time has arrived," she said, "when the retired individual no longer wants to be tucked away in a cushioned chair behind closed doors. As any thriving, healthy community, we need to recognize and utilize the abilities of our senior residents. With interest and planning, there can be a continuous program of interesting activity, giving friendship, recreation, service, and education."

The planning committee believes this is the period when retirement from heavy economic responsibilities gives many people an opportunity to plan a broad program and thereby continue in community progress.

Inquiries can be directed to the Congregational Church, FR 8-4418.

In addition to the members named above, the planning committee includes: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Liles, Mrs. Charles Scarper, Mrs. Stanley Smith, Mrs. Lawrence Schaper and Robert James.

Police to Check Trailer Court

Campbell's police department Monday night was directed by the City Council to investigate the number of trailers now parked in the Crump Trailer Court, 186 Dillon St., to determine whether the court was in violation of the zoning ordinance.

The application of Mrs. Gladys Crump for a use permit to operate the trailer court was denied by the Planning Commission and the decision was upheld by the City Council.

However, John Thorne, counsel for the Crumps, has notified city officials that the Crumps would continue to operate a trailer court at the location because he claimed it was operating as such before the City was incorporated.

City Attorney Joseph Bonacina told the Council, however, that in his opinion the legal status claimed by the court owners was "untenable" and acting on his recommendation the Council ordered the police to investigate the situation.

Dryer Reports Short Crop as Prunes End

By Art Cook

Increasing subdivision, the expansion of industry and a shorter crop this season took their toll on the local prune crop, causing a drop in output at the Campbell Co-op Dryer.

A total of approximaely 9500 green tons of prunes were processed at the dryer this season as compared to a 1956 total of 13,400 green tons, according to Richard Azevedo, local field representative for the California Prune and Apricot Assn.

Azevedo estimated that after processing this year's crop will total 8000 dry tons. Last year's total was approximately 10,000 dry tons.

He blamed the drop this season on the loss of acreage due to increased home construction and on a somewhat lower production rate for the existing acreage.

Walnuts Next

The huge dryer, the largest compact dehydrator in the world, closes its prune processing operations this week in preparation for the local walnut season. The first prunes of the season were processed in the first week of August.

The dryer, which was built in 1936, is a cooperative operation, owned by a total of 280 member farmers in the area. It is operated in affiliation with the CPAA, which packages and markets the prunes under the trade name, "Sunsweet".

Complete Process

At the dryer, the prunes are processed completely from the time they are delivered from the orchard until they are shipped to the "Sunsweet" packaging plant in San Jose.

On delivery to the dryer, the prunes are weighed and sent to the dipper area where they are washed in fresh water and loose twigs and rocks are removed by large shaker trays.

In one of the two large dipping machines, the members have this season installed a "prune pump." The pump consists of a wooden water floatation tank into which the prunes are dumped on their way to the washer.

Floatation System

The floatation system operates in such a way that the ripe prunes sink to the bottom of the tank and are pumped off to the washer. Immature, sunburned or damaged prunes that are hollow from damage by insects or birds float to the top along with leaves, twigs and dirt that may be mixed with the load. This "slush" is then easily removed.

From the dippers, the prunes are placed on drying trays and moved into the drying rooms or prune "tunnels". These large concrete rooms are equipped with heating units and fans which maintain an average temperature of 164 degrees.

The prunes remain in the tunnels for about 24 hours of drying, then scraped off the trays and belted to portable bins for storage and curing.

They remain in these bins for at least a week. In the bins the moisture content of the prunes is equalized to prevent spoilage after packaging.

Cycle Complete

The curing operation completes the cycle of drying and from the storage bins the prunes are shipped to the packaging plant.

Despite the drop in tonnage of this year's crop, the processing proceudre remains the same. Co-op officials do not expect any severe cutbacks in the near future.

This year's crop of 8000 dry tons would supply Campbell's estimated 12,000 population with one pound of prunes per person each week for the next 25 years.

And after all, that's still a lot of prunes.

THOUGHT FOR NEWSPAPER WEEK

Campaign Opens For Red Feather; $10,000 Goal Set

A $10,000 goal has been set for the combined Campbell-Cambrian Park United Giver and Red Feather campaign which opened here Sunday, Marv Willoughby, Campbell chairman, announced this week.

The first report meeting of the campaign will be held today at noon at the Sainte Claire Hotel in San Jose. Willoughby has asked all volunteers and interested contributors to attend.

The joint goal for this year's campaign in central Santa Clara County is $739,427, Willoughby said. The goal represents a 17.7 per cent increase over the amount collected last year.

In Campbell the industry and commerce division of the campaign will be headed by Jack Payne, manager of the American Trust Co. Homer H. Hyde of the Campbell Water District is in charge of solicitation of business and public employees.

Mrs. Helen Andres of Campbell Union High School District is in charge of school solicitation and Mrs. E. T. Litynsky, Campbell Postmaster will direct the doorbell campaign.

The six major causes benefitting from the campaign include the 30 Red Feather agencies, the Red Cross, Cancer Society, Heart Association, U.S.O., and the American Social Hygiene Society.

Allen Talks on Water Problems

Bruce Allen, assemblyman from the 29th district, told the Rotary Club Monday that almost nothing had been accomplished this year by the State Legislature in the way of solving the State's water problem and he anticipated very little action until the end of 1958.

Allen said that although some $225 million in state funds is available for water projects, with $50 million a year earmarked for work such as the Feather River project and South Bay Aqueduct, the lack of action is due to the opposition of Southern California water companies who want firm rights to the water.

Mrs. Stulp formerly was a teacher in tthe Oakdale Christian School. Reverend Beorfyn leaves to organize a new church in the Bay Area.

Teachers Travel Study in Summer

Campbell Union High School District teachers and administrators spent their summer vacation this year doing summer school work at 12 colleges stretching from Mexico City to Syracuse, N. Y., and taking extended trips that carried them from Hawaii to Europe.

Sixty of the 148 members of the staffs of the district's two high schools and the hospital school at Santa Clara County Hospital, took a total of 337 semester units in summer classes, according to district survey reports recently released.

Those who took summer trips logged a total of over 226,000 miles of travel this summer in trips which covered the entire U.S., and touched on parts of Canada, Mexico and Europe.

Work to Begin On Eastfield

Work is scheduled to begin in Campbell this month on two cottages for Eastfield, the child welfare center formerly known as Home of Benevolence, Mrs. Wesley Lindsay, president of the board of directors, announced yesterday. The contract has gone to Knopf Brothers, building contractors, of Los Gatos. The new child welfare center will be located on the corner of Latimer and Llewellyn Avenues.

The plans have met strict state and fire marshal requirements and were approved by the State Department of Social Welfare. The cotages will be built at a cost of $117,700 and each contain 3,600 square feet of floor space. Each building will house 10 children and a 24-hour staff.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Unless a Congressman was alert an important bill (H.R. 5809) could have slipped by unnoticed on the Consent Calendar for August 19, 1957. Consent Calendar bills are usually noncontroversial and are passed in wholesale lots with no roll calls and without objection. H.R. 5809 wasn't controversial but that doesn't detract from its importance.

The bill authorized the construction of a permanent memorial at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to 1,102 of the Navy's finest who died aboard the battleship U.S.S. ARIZONA in the sneak attack on December 7, 1941. A campaign to solicit funds from private sources to build the memorial will commence on next December 7 and I sincerely hope it will be outstandingly successful.

A trip by launch to the ARIZONA is all that is needed to convince you of the merit of a campaign for funds to build a memorial. The Navy has tried valiantly to preserve the wreck, but steel and sald water don't mix. Year by year, the ship's hulk is rusting away and thinning scraps of metal ebb and flow with the tide of Pearl Harbor. It doesn't seem a fitting memorial to these young men who gave their lives to their country in a war which they never knew would be declared.

Six fine young men from Santa Clara and San Benito Counties will never take the Deck Officer's salute and happily stride down the gangplank of the ARIZONA toward liberty, home and friends. Joseph John Borovich of Hollister, Eugene Louis Katt, Gordon Eddy Moulton, Fred Louis Richison, Guadalupe Augustine Rico, and Richard Dominic Valente of San Jose, will never leave their stations aboard the ARIZONA. In appreciation of what they did for us I hope we can make their final resting place a thing of beauty.

I usually don't recommend contributions to funds but this one is different. If you would like to help, mail your contribution to Delegate John Burns, Delegate to Congress from Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H.

—o—

Some memorials do become controversial. During the last session a shrine to the "Five Freedoms" was proposed to be erected near the Marine Monument depicting the famous "Flag Raising on Mt. Suribachi". Marines all over the world protested in droves that it would spoil the effect of their memorial. Congress agreed and the project was stopped.

A proposed tunnel across the Potomac was shelved for the reason that it might disrupt some of the approaches to the Arlington National Military Cemetery. Congress decided that the Potomac was large enough for a crossing—some place else.

During my five years as a Congressman I have been constantly impressed at the great reverence held for our servicemen who died in defense of their country. The Defense Department is never too busy to give top priority to the family of a man who died in service or to the memory of the man. Congress feels the same way.

This is the biggest difference between Communism and Democracy. We place the individual and his memory above the state. Furthermore, we always will!

Teacher Enters Political Ring

Dr. Everett T. Calvert, educator and business man of West Covina and Arcadia, has announced his candidacy for State Superintendent of Public Instruction for the election in June 1958. Since this is a non-partisan office, he states that he is seeking the endorsement of both the republican and democratic parties as well as all other groups interested in a strong instructional program and loyal to the United States of America.

EVERETT T. CALVERT, Ph.D.
Candidate, State Superintendent of Public Instruction

Dr. Calvert received his Ph.D. in Education at Yale in 1942 and his A. B. degree at LaVerne College (California) in 1931. He has taught in the public schools of Riverside, Idyllwild, and Los Angeles; and he was a school supervisor for three years in Kern County. For 12 years he was a principal in Pasadena and has taught at Yale and the University of Southern California.

In addition to school work, Dr. Calvert has been a Marine with combat duty, a writer and editor in chief, and a business man — having developed three subdivisions. He is a Rotary past president and a member of Phi Delta Kappa, other educational organizations, the V.F.W. and American Legion.

Famed Violinist To Appear with S. C. Philharmonic

Isaac Stern, internationally famed violin virtuoso, will be featured as the outstanding soloist for the Santa Clara Philharmonic Orchestra's 1957-58 season, according to Ellis A. Rother, president of the orchestra association. Stern will perform with the orchestra February 7, 1958, in the University of Santa Clara auditorium, with Edward Azhderian conducting.

The concert season will open November 8 with Elena Guirola Hitchcock, well-known California-born pianist, as guest soloist. Soloists at the March 14 concert will be the winner of the annual January competition conducted by the Philharmonic board and San Jose Music Club. The closing concert on April 25 will be popular, featuring music by such composers as Johann Strauss, Cole Porter, and Richard Rodgers.

Season tickets go on sale October 1 and will be available at the Porch Window, Los Gatos, and Stevens Music Center, Saratoga, with special rates to students.

The Stanford Indians beat the Northwestern Wildcats 26-6. I watched the game on TV. and thought Northwestern had several bad breaks on penalties, etc. It was the Wildcats first game and think they will show up better as the season progresses.

Buccaneers Lose to Lick, 33-0, Seek Win Against Mountain View

Campbell High's Buccaneers will be trying to break into the win column when they meet the Eagles of Mountain View tomorrow at 3 p.m. on the Campbell field.

The Bucs, suffering from opening game "stage fright", dropped their opener against James Lick, 33-0, last Friday.

The game was especially costly for Campbell as Dave Alvarez suffered a broken leg and will be out of action for the remainder of the season. Sophomore Jerry Cooper will replace Alvarez at left half in the starting lineup against the Eagles.

DAVE ALVAREZ
. . . Out for Season

Lick, favored to win the SCVAL crown this year, successfully bottled up the Campbell offense except for two long Buc drives. The Bucs, moving well on the ground in the first half, went all the way to the Comet 17 yard line in the second quarter but bogged down and were unable to score.

Sparked by quarterback Bob Stewart and sophomores Don Womer and Jerry Cooper, the Bucs also threatened late in the game with a 58 yard drive that ended in a pass interception as the gun sounded.

Passes Costly

Although the Bucs outgained the Comets on the ground, the passing combination of Comet quarterback Chon Gallegos and end Bill Turner proved too much for the Buc pass defense.

Gallegos, who completed 14 of 22 passes for 157 yards during the game, passed to Turner for two TD's and to halfback Ken Kimura for another. The Gallegos-Turner battery also accounted for several crucial first down gains.

Tackles Verne Walton and Don Grannis, guards Jay Gibb and Roy Tannehill and center-linebacker Tom Farley performed well defensively for the Bucs, holding the Comets on the ground.

But the Campbell offense seemed to lack the punch to put together a sustained scoring drive. Several costly fumbles and four pass interceptions in the second half kept the Bucs bottled up in the scoring department.

Heavy Workouts

Coach Muir sent his squad through two hour-long scrimmages this week concentrating heavily on pass defense for the Mountain View tilt. Muir felt that the Buc backs were not aggressive enough in bottling up receivers last Friday and that the line could have kept Gallegos off balance with harder charging.

Mountain View was also held scoreless in its opener, dropping an 11-0 decision to Washington last week. Two bad passes from center which resulted in safeties and a long touchdown pass gave Washington the victory.

Boasting a big line this year, the Eagles will come into tomorrow's game slight favorites over Campbell.

SJS Nips Denver; Meets Sun Devils

San Jose State's Spartans, fresh from a comeback 27-20 upset over Denver University last Friday, play their first home game of the season Saturday when they meet the Sun Devils of Arizona State at 8 p.m. at Spartan Stadium.

The Spartans last week surprised the favored Denver Pioneers in their upset win at Denver. Coach Bob Tichenal's squad bounced back from their thumping at the hands of the Stanford Indians to stop Denver in a game that was never as close as the score would indicate.

This week, however, the Spartans meet an Arizona powerhouse that has been heralded as one of the top small colleges in the nation.

Led by halfbacks Bobby Mulgado and Leon Burton, both of whom were among the top 20 ground gainers in the nation last year, the Sun Devils will come into Saturday's game easy favorites over the Spartans.

Campbell Cagers Drill for Opener

With the World Series just underway, Coach Robinson of Campbell High is already running his C and D basketball squads through daily drills this week in preparation for the C and D league season opener at Mountain View next Tuesday.

Dick Mayeda and Kent Winters, veterans of last year's D team will lead the C cagers this fall. Other starters for the opening game will be Dave Moncrief, Larry Wetterstrom and Jim Sweeney.

Rounding out the C squad are Doug Rielman, Bill Vega, Mike Uyemura, Frank Stasi, Sam Sato, Mel Katai, and Koyosho Idota.

With four lettermen returning to the D team, height, not experience, is Robinson's problem there. Probable D starters are Chester Itow, Don Sugama, Gary Kanemoto and Al Sequira, all lettermen; and Harvey Kanemoto. New hands this year include Ross Itow, Gary Egan and Ronnie Speno.

Hornets Win, 27-6

The undefeated Billy Wilson Hornets, Santa Clara County's entry in the Northern California Pop Warner Football Conference, coasted to an easy 27-6 win over Sebastopol in their home season opener Sunday at Campbell Field.

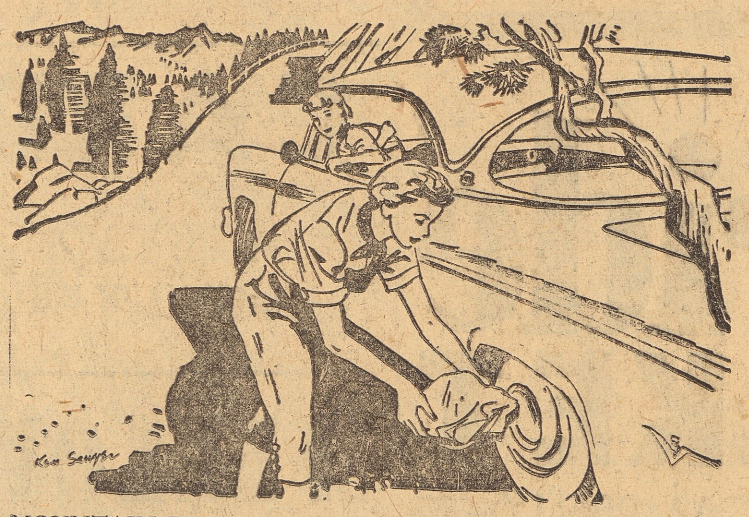
Back Sandy Sutton, who accounted for two Hornet TD's during the game, took the opening kickoff and galloped 80 yards for a touchdown to put the Hornets in front. Their lead was never challenged.

The Hornets will be gunning for their fifth straight win when they meet San Carlos Sunday at Carlmont.

JOINS GRID SQUAD

Wayne Williams of Campbell, now attending San Jose State, is one of 52 candidates now practicing with the Spartan freshman football team.

Women At The Wheel



MOUNTAIN DRIVING—When contemplating a mountain-area trip, it's advisable for women motorists to travel accompanied, suggests the California State Automobile Association. Other useful reminders are: 1) When parked on a grade, cut wheels toward the curb or bank, set handbrake and place rocks under wheels. 2) Sound the horn when rounding a blind curve. 3) Use low gears when traveling on a down-grade.

Camden Bows, 26-6; Washington Next

Camden High's Cougars, making their debut in SCVAL grid play, dropped their season opener against the Fremont Indians last Friday, 26 6.

Camden travels to Centerville tomorrow at 8 p.m. to meet the Washington High Huskies. The Cougars will go into the game slight favorites over Washington.

In Friday's action against Fremont, the Cougars held the Indians to a six point lead at the end of the half, then tied the game with a touchdown in the opening minutes of the third quarter.

Sparked by the running and passing of tailback Greg Rocha, the Cougars moved to the four yard line, where Al Okamoto plunged over for the score.

The running of Rocha, Okamoto and Bill Murphy, and a 30 yard pass from Rocha to end Mel Profit set up the TD.

But Fremont capitalized on a 65 yard scamper by fullback Dick Regnart, a high pass from center recovered in the Camden end zone and 81 yard drive in the fourth period to put the game on ice.

Bees Bow to Lick; Play Eagles Today

Three completed passes, two for touchdowns and one for a conversion, spelled the difference last week as the Campbell Bees lost a closely fought 14-0 decision to the Junior Comets of James Lick High.

The Bees continue their SCVAL grid schedule this afternoon at 3:30 when they meet Mountain View on the Campbell field.

The costly pass plays, the only Comet passes completed in last Thursday's game, broke up an otherwise close lightweight contest played on the victor's field.

Afer a scoreless first half, the Comets tallied on long passes in the third and fourth quarter to win the lightweight season opener for the two clubs.

Coach Hal Raley, who drilled his Bees heavily on pass defense this week, figures the Bees to win today's contest. Raley, whose squad showed weaknesses at the tackle spots last week, plans to use more flanker plays today to open up his offensive game.

The Mountain View squad also went scoreless in their opener, losing to Washington, 26-0, last week.

Smog Law Issued

The Bay Area Air Pollution Control District Tuesday ordered into effect its first regulation in Santa Clara County and the five other counties in the district. The regulation bans certain open burning practices.

Rubbish disposal fires at one or two family homes will be restricted to the hours between 6 a.m. and sunset.

Householders will not be restricted on open fires for backyard and recreational purposes, except as such fires must conform to present local regulations.

Rosemary Cubs Plan Activities For the Year

Cub Pack 75 made plans for the year's activities when it held a family potluck supper at Rosemary School last Friday evening and resumed indoor meetings. Decorations conformed to the September theme, "Homesteaders."

During the evening Vic Chernoff conducted a training session for new families of the Pack and Hak Durssai led a songfest. Chernoff also read a letter from Germany thanking the pack for a care package sent last year. Ed Kolstad met with parents of Lion cubs to plan a Webelos den.

Cubs advanced in rank were: Alan Young of Den 1, Lion; Jeff McKinley of Den 6, Lion; and Mark Bradshaw of Den 2, Wolf; and Rannie Breshers of Den 7, Lion.

Jerry Vasser was awarded a gold and silver arrow and Larry Bronson was made denner of Den 7. He will be assisted by Chris Burt.

Jack Glasgow, chairman of the parade committee announced plans are being made for the pack's entry in the Veteran's Day Parade in Los Gatos.

Prompt Renewal Of License Pays; Drivers Warned

Many California drivers who otherwise would be entitled to quick renewal of their driver licenses for a full five years are having to run the full gamut of written and road tests to obtain three year licenses according to the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

A new law, called variously the "birthday anniversary" and the "reward for good driving" act, stipulates that drivers who permit their licenses to lapse for more than 30 days must take a complete examination, including driving test, when applying for renewal.

The law further provides that unless application for renewal is made within 30 days after expiration of old licenses, the term of the new license shall be limited to three years.

Ordinarily a driver with a perfect driving record is entitled to a five year license.

PUMPKIN FLUFF PIE

Pumpkin pie in a new disguise. Serve it all through these fall months—it's easy to make and has a new flavor tang.

GRAHAM CRACKER SHELL: Mix together 1¾ cups crushed graham crackers (about 18 single), ¼ cup Beet Sugar, 4 tablespoons melted butter or margarine and 1 tablespoon orange juice. Press around sides and on bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) about 10 minutes. Cool.

FILLING:

- 2 eggs, separated
- ¾ cup Beet Sugar
- ¼ teaspoon each salt, ground cloves, nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ginger
- ⅓ cup orange juice (fresh, frozen or canned)
- 2 cups pumpkin
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Pecan halves

IN saucepan blend together the egg yolks, ½ cup of the Beet Sugar, salt and the spices. Add orange juice. Cook about 5 minutes or until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, stir in pumpkin. Cool. BEAT egg whites until they form soft peaks; gradually add the remaining ¼ cup Beet Sugar; beat until stiff. Fold into cooled pumpkin mix. Lastly fold in whipped cream, reserving about ½ cup of the cream for garnish.

TURN into pie shell. Chill in refrigerator. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream and pecan halves. Serves 6 to 8.

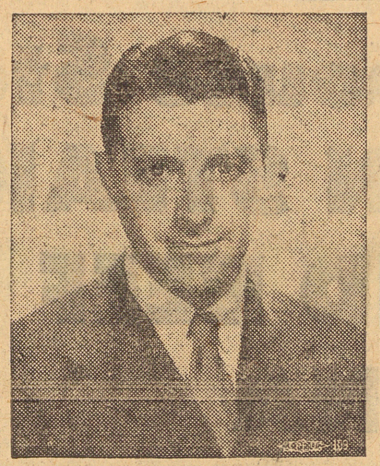
Camden Bees Win, 13-0

A 16-yard touchdown gallop by fullback Fred McCune and a TD pass from Jay Williams to Don Clark sparked the Camden Cougar Bees to a 13-0 upset victory over a favored Fremont Indian Bee squad last week.

The Cougar Bees, who saved Camden from an otherwise dark weekend, meet Washington's Bees there tomorrow at 6 p.m. in a preliminary to the varsity contest.



Caspar W. Weinberger, San Francisco Assemblyman, today announced his intention to run for the office of State Attorney General. Weinberger has served three terms in the state legislature and is a well known attorney.

Among his many legislative activities as chairman of the Joint Assembly—Senate Committee on Alcoholic Beverage Control, he led a statewide investigation of liquor laws which brought about the passage of the 1954 constitutional amendment reorganizing California alcoholic beverage control.

'Press' Correspondent Stops Over In Rangoon-Bangkok on Way Home

Editor's Note: This is another interesting description of one of Virginia Grattan's stop-overs on her homeward journey after two years in Europe. Virginia, daughter of Mrs. Ray Archibald of Campbell and a former Campbell High and San Jose student, in this account tells of her visit in Bangkok and Rangoon.—G.V.

By Virginia Grattan

RANGOON

(August 19) Leave New Delhi at 9 a.m. Arrive Rangoon at 6 p.m.

Flying to Rangoon we followed the course of the Ganges to the East coast of India. At Dacca, in East Pakistan, we stopped for 45 minutes. I was soaked in perpiration. The plane got off again, but it was a long time before I was comfortably cool again.

Rangoon is on the Gulf of Martaban, a port city and the center of the rice industry.

The people are a mixture of Indian and Oriental races. They wear sarongs of gay-colored prints wrapped around their hips, western-type shirts and sandals or bare feet. They live in wooden huts built on stilts above the wet earth and work black water buffalo in the rice fields.

The main sights of Rangoon are the pagodas. They are huge inverted cones standing several hundred feet high, lacquered in gold. Inside are gold or bronze figures of Buddha to which the Burmese offer their prayers. Along the roads orange-robed, shaven-head priests carry their rice bowls (their only possession) in their arms as htey climb the hills to the temple.

BANGKOK

(August 21)

Leave Rangoon, 5:45 a.m. Arrive Bangkok at 6:30 a.m.

Bangkok is built on the bank of the Chao Phya River and laced with a multitude of mossy green canals known as klongs. Houses are built on stilts above the river and people travel by boats rowed with one oar, the same as the gondolas of Venice It is rightly called the Venice of the East.

Rice is the big industry here. From the air one sees nothing but flat land covered with water and patches of yellow-green rice. The men and women work equally, whether it is rowing a boat on a klong or carrying a heavy load with a bamboo shoulder pole, and in the rice fields everyone works.

They wear black pants and high collared Chinese jackets, topped off with a great straw hat to protect them both from the sun and rain. They are busy, industrious people whether at work in the shops or in the rice fields.

The temples of Bangkok are fantastic. The Siamese temples are more Chinese in style than those of Burma. The temple is built around an open courtyard with a gabled roof which turns up at every corner. Inside is the statue of Buddha with much ornamentation around it.

VIRGINIA GRATTAN
. . . Rangoon—Bangkok

Each Buddha varies with the temple. One temple boasts of a solid gold Buddha, another is of pure emerald, another is an enormous reclining Buddha resting on his side, his great feet covered with inlaid mother-of-pearl, the body with gold.

At the Palace you can wander through a never-never land of oriental temples, stone giants and walls painted with mythological stories from which the Siamese dance was taken. You have the feeling that an oriental dragon will appear at any moment and eat you up.

There is a modern side to the city, too; wide streets, shops, motion picture theaters and billboards advertising Coca-Cola. Bangkok is making great strides toward Westernization.

Local Motorists Aid Traffic Study

Response in the Campbell area to the Santa Clara County Trafficways Survey begun last week has been good but more returns are needed to complete the study, James W. Meyer, project manager for the survey firm of DeLeuw, Cather and Co., announced yesterday.

Meyer said that Campbell ranks third in returns in the 12-community area covered in the first mailing of trip survey cards.

He added that survey returns were not complete, however, and urged all residents who have not returned their survey cards to do so as soon as possible.

Meyer also pointed out that the county is making the survey to find ways to improve traffic conditions and that the value of the survey depends on the completeness of the returns.

Both short and long trips should be reported on the card, he added.

Additional information on filling out the trip cards and duplicate cards can be obtained by calling survey headquarters, CYpress 5-1050, extension 350, he said.

NEWLYWED MR. AND MRS. NORMAN REEK . . . pause at the entrance to St. Patrick's Church, San Jose, immediately after their mariage. The bride is the former Margaret Taylor of San Jose. The young couple are now at home in Campbell.

Norman Reek and Margaret Taylor Recite Vows in Nuptial Mass

A nuptial Mass at St. Patrick's Church in San Jose united Margaret Taylor and Norman J. Reek in marriage August 31. The 9 a.m. double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Father O'Malley before an altar banked with white stock, gladioli, and lighted tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clara Sampson of Gilroy and Wesley L. Taylor of San Jose, and sister of William Sampson. She attended San Jose schools and is employed by the Sunsweet plant in San Jose.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reek of San Jose. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and owner of the Modern Shoe Repair Shop at 299 E. Campbell Ave.

When escorted to the altar by her step-father, Reuben E. Sampson, Margaret wore a ballerina-length princess gown of white taffeta and Chantilly lace styled with cap sleeves, a portrait neckline edged with pleated net and a back bustle bow. Her finger-tip illusion veil was bordered with lace and caught to a cap of lace embroidered with seed pearls. For "something borrowed" she carried a white prayer book marked with white orchid and satin ribbons. Her "something old" was a handkerchief carried by her mother and grandmother at their weddings.

Maid of honor was Miss Charlotte Rossetta of San Jose who wore a bouffant skirted sky blue chiffon gown accented with a lighter blue satin cummerbund and matching bandeau with short veil. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Angelo Tribulato performed the duties of best man and Harold Pack served as usher.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sampson selected a navy blue faille suit with matching hat and gloves and pink accessories. Mrs. Reek, mother of the groom, wore a mink stole over a royal blue jersey dress with matching hat and black accessories. Both mothers' corsages were pink carnation.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was held at the Hotel DeAnza for the immediate family. Table decor carried out the bridal theme in pink and white carnations with a two-tier wedding cake as centerpiece.

Before leaving on a honeymoon trip to Carmel, the new Mrs. Reek donned a gray wool dress with black accessories and pinned on the orchid from her briday bouquet.

The newlyweds are now making their home at 315 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell.

One of the most active Blue Bird Groups in Campbell is the O-Wa-Issa who, under the leadership of Mrs. Naomi James this past year, have given a great deal of time and work to helping others. Recently Mrs. Stan Rohde took over leadership of the group and is now being assisted by Mrs. James and Mrs. Vivienne Cave.

During the past year these third grade girls have made tray mats for the county hospital patients, filled and delivered Christmas boxes to elderly patients at the hospital, stuffed envelopes for the Heart Association, and are now in the p rocess of making scrapbooks for children at county hospital.

The girls always eager for new adventures, take time out for pleasure too, going on outings and visiting industrial plants. Last Thursday the group paid a visit to The Campbell Press and heard the shop foreman, Cilff Cassiday, give a brief history of printing while conducting them on a tour of the back shop when the big press was in operation.

In the group were Diane Rohde, Donna Kern, Barbara Webber, Cheryl James, Kristy Cave, Pamela Lesniak and Wanda Shaddox.

Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Rohde, Mrs. James, and Mrs. Cave.

HUNDREDS OF FRESHLY-BAKED COOKIES . . . and samples of German Jelly Cake were passed out to County Fair visitors by these and other members of Campbell High's Future Homemakers of America. Baked on the spot under the supervision of their teacher and advisor, Mrs. Adele Charlson, the girls passed out hot samples of their culinary art to all who stopped to watch them work or inspect their prize-winning entries. The Campbell group walked off with 29 ribbons and cash awards in clothing, baked goods, preserved foods and needlework divisions. The group's biggest hit at the Fair was German Jelly Cake, a recipe from Mrs. Charlson's personal file which has been reprinted in this issue. Pictured at work in their kitchen stirring up a new batch of drop cookies are, left to right, Verla Raab, Jeannette Bonney, Pat Rappe, Laura Raab, Linda Nichols, and Darlene Testa.

Social Chatter

Ever hear of the "Knuckleheads"? It's an exclusive club originating with square dancers who love to route their favorite caller out of bed in the middle of the night and make him call a dance for them at his home. The time for such shinanigans is usually after a big dance, or hoe-down, when they are quite sure their intended victim is sleeping peacefully at home. Naturally, since its the middle of the night, the only proper garb is evening wear, otherwise pajamas.

About 1:30 a.m. last Sunday morning anyone around Winchester Road and Campbell Ave. would have seen car-loads of pajama-clad dancers given a police escort through town. In the "parade" were 50 members from the "Shooting Stars", "Jay-Walkers", and "Boopsie-Daisies" square dance groups who were on their way to the home of Otto Manning, 1032 York Ave., caller for the "Shooting Stars".

The zany dancers got Manning out of bed, rolled up the rug in his living room and announced they had come to dance. So, Manning obligingly called dances until the wee hours of the morning. After pausing for coffee and doughnuts, the weary dancers and caller finally got to bed about dawn.

German Jelly Cake Recipe All Here this Week

In last week's recipe for Mrs. Adele Charlson's German Jelly Cake, the cake that was such a success at the Fair, the amount of flour was somehow omitted. As a result, the Press received numerous calls about the missing ingredient. For this reason we are again printing this unusual recipe.

GERMAN JELLY CAKE

4 cups of flour
1½ cups shortening
1½ cups sugar
4 eggs
1 teas. salt
1 teas. cloves
1 teas. nutmeg
¾ teas. soda
½ cup ground chocolate
juice of 1 lemon
1 pint of plum preserves*
*Apricot or berry jam may be substituted.

Cream shortening and sugar; add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together flour, salt, cloves, nutmeg, soda, and chocolate and add to mixture, blending well. Add juice of lemon.

Spread ¾ of batter in a 9" x 13" pan. Over the top spread plum preserves. Spoon the remaining ¼ batter into a cookie press or pastry bag and use to make criss-cross cake strips over top of jam.

Bake 45 minutes to one hour at 350 degrees.

EDITORIAL

"Your Newspaper Serves"

This is National Newspaper Week (October 1-8), and if we tend to boast a little just now perhaps we may be indulged. For the newspaper, which regularly devotes itself to bring news and the interpretation of news to your homes, has a message of its own.

The slogan for the week, "Your Newspaper Serves" is particularly apropos because the American newspaper occupies an unique place in the world. Its freedom is guaranteed by the Constitution. It has been considered from the beginnings of the Republic and from even before that—an essential instrument in the lives of the American people.

Its basic purpose has been and always will be the same: To tell the happenings of the day. Here the function is of particular importance in regards to the happenings of government, whether it be on a local, state or national plane, all instruments of the people's will.

It's next and almost inseparable function is to try to place the facts concerning these happenings in perspective — to give the meaning in the light of other events, past and present.

It has other important purposes—to serve as a medium for advertising, to entertain and amuse, to serve as a public forum.

You may, and undoubtedly do, on occasion, become discouraged with your newspaper or even become angry with it. Yet it is an indispensable item for intelligent living, and in many more cases than is generally realized, it is the most constructive and most educational item in a family's existence.

Therefore the newspapers of America set aside this week to call attention to the services they perform. But more than that they set it aside to remind themselves and their readers of the obligation they owe to the American public and their own community particularly.

National Newspaper Week, therefore, is not an occasion so much for self-praise by the newspapers as it is an occasion for self-appraisement. It is a time for newspapers over the land to rededicate themselves to the trust placed in them by the vast intelligent, progressive and enlightened American public.

Whether a newspaper is large, small or indifferent, this week should be devoted to this self-appraisement.

In a sense the American community weekly occupies an unique position in the newspaper world.

You have probably heard (maybe you have said it yourself) that weekly newspaper people are odd people. Perhaps you are right.

In the first place the weekly newspaper is a pubic servant, reporting the news and views of the community so that people may live together in harmony and govern themselves intelligently in a free democracy.

A weekly newspaper, secondly, is a community market place. Through its advertisements buyers and sellers meet quickly and economically.

A weekly newspaper, also, through its counsel given publicly on its editorial page and privately in the editor's office, attempts to support and strengthen every influence for good.

Finally, the weekly newspaper is a manufacturing plant and a retail business. Each week it produces its product from scratch which is sold retail by the delivery boys, on the newsstands and through the mail. It also sells its advertising space to stores and markets.

On top of it all, the weekly paper serves the printing needs of local businesses, individuals and organizations at prices competitive with big city printing plants.

It is a many-sided enterprise and weekly newspaper people have to be equally many-sided.

But on every side they try to serve you and your community first.

That is why we think the slogan of this year's newspaper week, "YOUR NEWSPAPER SERVES" is especially apropos.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

In July of 1939 a social bomb was dropped in Campbell. Its judge for more than 10 years suddenly appeared on its streets riding a bicycle, as a newspaper said, "just like a boy."

In that comment was a hint of my special reason. I had noticed that children like to do what they see adults do. Teenagers were going wild with cheap motor cars unfit for the road. Arrests of juveniles for driving cars with mechanical defects had become a chief court problem. Juveniles wanted to imitate adults at any risk.

It had occurred to me that I might set a good example to teen-agers by riding a bicycle. And the fact that I was the community judge would make the example all the more dramatic.

But the drama was chiefly felt by adults. My community was scandalized. I was amused. Shortly after I became a judge a friend long in politics warned, "Now that you're in politics you're lost. You will never again own your own soul."

But for over 10 years I had been in politics and still owned my own soul. To defy social conventions by riding a bicycle was right in line with defying political conventions by owning my own soul. It was culture of moral courage. So I kept right on.

Soon our nation was gripped by World War II. Making of motor cars for private use stopped. Gasoline was rationed. Citizens were advised to use bicycles for personal transportation wherever possible. Now I was congratulated for being ahead of my time.

In fact I was in style in a big way. Bicycles were also rationed. You had to show actual need before you could buy one. As an adult owner of a bike I was envied.

At war's end the people as a whole returned to motor cars. But I continued my culture of moral courage by riding a bike. Besides, just before we entered the war I had seen a light foreign-made bike with three speeds. As soon as possible I got one. It made cycling all the more enjoyable.

Probably I had the first three-speed bike in our community. Three speeds made a bike not only more fun but safer. At the intersections you could use low speed for quick pickup in getting out of the way. The convenience of the other two speeds was the same as with a motor car.

I adopted three speeds about seven years ago. At that time the children were still riding heavy bikes with balloon tires. But today light bikes with three speeds are all the rage with children also, as I pointed out in the first bike column.

One day a small boy on a three-speed bike caught up with me and gave me a first class lecture on advantages of bike riding. Much cheaper than a car, he said, and healthy exercise. He congratulated me on my good sense as an adult!

For my health I ride every ordinary morning about five miles. This is plain "exercise". To get somewhere I may ride a dozen miles or so.

How did the bicycle happen to be thought of in the first place? Well, it's an old joke that when an Indian first saw a man on a bike he commented, "White man heap lazy. Him sit down to walk!"

That was the original idea. Says the Schwinn history of cycling, back about 1816 Baron Drais, a Germon, devised a way of sitting down to walk. He connected two wheels with a wooden bar, put a saddle on the bar, then propelled himself forward by thrusting his feet backwards against the ground.

About 1840 MacMillan of Scotland fitted cranks to the rear axle. About 1862 men of both France and Germany fitted cranks and pedals to the front axle. They got more speed by making the front wheel larger. The idea caught on. The front wheel rapidly became larger and larger.

By 1872 the "Ordinary" or "High Wheel" with small wheel behind had reached an advanced state of development. Sitting down to walk had become a popular if somewhat dangerous sport. You might take a "header" on your face.

About 1884 Starley of England put crank and pedals between two wheels of equal size, made connection with sprockets and chain to rear axle, and the "safety" was born. Sitting down to walk became more attractive.

About 1888 Dunlop of Ireland invented the first practical pneumatic tire. In 1892 Palmer added the improvement of the cord principle. Bikes were now so good that by 1895 sitting down to walk was all the rage, as I described in a previous column.

Sitting down to walk is again the rage—with the children and me. My doing it is no longer a scandal. But the reckless way in which children ride their bikes on sidewalks is a scandal more or less. And nothing is being done about it.

Are children to grow up as habitual breakers of traffic laws? More on this subject next week.

The pickets marching back and forth in front of the Golden State Cleaners at Railway and Campbell Ave. have become such a fixture (They first started last spring) that when they are not on hand one wonders what is wrong.

It's almost the same as living by a railroad track and hearing the trains go by. At first the noise of the choo-choos is very disconcerting but after a while, if a train doesn't roar by on schedule, it is almost as bad.

They say a person can get used to almost anything and we reckon that's about true.

—o—

Not so long ago the picket was absent for a couple of weeks. We sorta missed him for we go by the cleaners several times each day and exchange greetings as we go by.

The picketing of the cleaners is a one-man job and for the majority of the time since the picketing first started in March, only two individuals seem to have shared the sign-carrying load.

Right now Allen White is back on the job, replacing Wilbur Lewis. We learned that when White, who came on the job last spring, took a two-weeks vacation Lewis took over his chore on the line.

This particular picketing has become such a routine procedure and has been carried on over such a long period of time that we doubt very much the pickets themselves know exactly why they started marching in the first place.

—o—

The pickets work a regular eight-hour day with time out for lunch. That much we learned.

The work is not difficult but we guess it could become pretty boring.

We suppose (we are just guessing, however,) that there is something to learn about the job of picket. Certain qqualifications must be met and there probably is a pool of pickets to draw from.

For instance a picket out of a job could run an ad under the heading: "Have sign will travel".

—o—

No matter how hard we think about it when the time comes for Daylight Saving to go on or off we never seem to be exactly sure whether we should set our clocks forward or backward.

Thus far we have managed somehow to do it correctly. But it has taken a great deal of concentration.

We gleefully note that others apparently have the same trouble.

We have learned, for example, that Frank Bush, head usher at St. Lucy's, moved his watch the wrong way last Sunday.

Fortunately no dire results occurred except he attended the 9 a.m. Mass and thought he was at the 11 o'clock service.

—o—

If we get a chance, we plan to check on the "Personal Money Managements" class offered by the Campbell Adult Education department headed by Ed Stanley.

We were particularly impressed by Ed's announcement of the class which said in part: "In a warm, friendly atmosphere, the class will discuss the solution to problems connected with the "financial bind" . . .

In addition, "around the coffee-table" discussions will be visited by some of the area's money management experts, the announcement reported.

What interests us, of course, are any solutions that may be uncovered for the "financial bind".

We are certain we can qualify for any class in that subject but we think we had better wait until they start, if they do, the advanced class. We even could probably qualify for graduate work.

However, it is our studied opinion that, if there was ever a class that had a more widespread appeal we would like to know about it.

And, frankly, we would like to know if there is any answer to this "financial bind".

Our curiosity will probably lead us to check further into it to see how the answers are coming in.

—o—

One of the functions of a newspaper is to check out rumors and to see if there is anything to 'em. Sometimes we uncover some newsworthy stories through this check-out but in the majority of cases we find nothing but a rumor.

Rumors can often be vicious and they can either be intentionally or unintentionally thataway. No matter what, however, we try to follow them down.

Not so long ago, for example, we heard that a Campbell resident had been fined $25 for burning in his incinerator after 6 p.m.

We hadn't heard anything of an official nature on such action but then we don't always hear such things either, no matter how hard we try.

We found this was a neighborhood story only and that the records of either police or firemen had no mention of such a fine.

As far as we could determine, only once since the incorporation of the city has there been any specific charge for wrongful burning and the fine in that case was suspended.

But we will continue to check rumors.

And we like to get 'em. Who knows what may develop.

Letter to the Editor

ESPERANTO FAVORED

A radio commentator said, recently, that English would become the universal language.

That would be fine for those of us who speak English and we would be glad I'm sure, but it doesn't seem to be coming very fast. For 600 years English has been the mother tongue of some 250 million people, about 10% of the World population. During all that time it has had the support of British and American colonial, Military, and commercial penetration, yet has gained probably much less than 25 million people, outside of their own colonies, who can speak English with any fluency, or about 1% of the World population. At that rate it would take about 60,000 years for English to become universal. International envy, hatred, fear and jealousy are too great.

Esperanto has existed for only about seventy years, not the mother tongue of any people, with no colonial, Military or commercial support of any kind yet is spoken by some five million people, scattered over all the important countries of the World. It has a World Congress every year, attended by some 2,000 delegates from over thirty countries, lasting about a week, with all proceedings in Esperanto. Over 7,000 books have been printed in the language, including the Bible and ten works of Shakespeare.

Few people know that air lines, travel bureaus, RR, bus and steamship lines advertise in Esperanto. The City of San Diego puts out a beautiful multi-color folder, with text in Esperanto, setting forth their tourist attractions. The '56 Esperanto Year Book contains over eighty ads.

Anyone desiring more information may write for free leaflet to:

Shopping in Campbell with Faye

It's hard to tell from one day to the next just how Campbell is going to look with all the fancying up that's going on. So many merchants are in the process of painting, building, and all types of general remodeling that Campbell is really getting a beauty treatment. This will be just one more attraction for shoppers in the area.

There are so many advantages in having a thriving group of stores within easy shopping distance, as the residents of the surrounding area know. But it is extra nice when the merchants are doing all they can to make their stores as attractive, modern, and well stocked for their customers as they possibly can. In an area which is growing at such tremendous speed, as the Campbell area is, it is often hard for merchants to keep up with the demands of the community. Our local group is certainly doing a wonderful job of meeting the expanding needs of their customers.

But Campbell is not just "another pretty face". It offers adequate parking facilities, a real premium these days when nobody walks if they can possibly avoid it. And most of our stores are so conveniently located that one or two stops is all a customer need make. It is such a comfort to know you can depend on pleasant shopping conditions close to home.

And pleasant is the key word with Campbell businessmen. Friendly, personal service is the rule when you make a purchase from a local store. You can be certain that you will be served with courtesy and genuine interest, for a local merchant is especailly interested in his customers. He depends on his community for his steady sales, so he is anxious to serve that community as well as he can.

Have you noticed the new faces that have joined the legion of merchants in our town? You'll meet many new people as you shop in Campbell, for the number of newcomers is surprising. You can rely on them for the same friendly service you're accustomed to here.

All in all, you'll find Campbell a pretty pleasant place to shop and the local businessmen a very friendly group to deal. with. So, whatever it is you have in mind, shop Campbell. Smart Shoppers Go Campbell!

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Now is a good time to spray established lawns with weed killer. Quite often the weed killer is sold in combination with insecticides that will destroy lawn moth and other pests.

2. This is still a good time for planting new lawns. Remember that proper preparation of the soil is more than half the cause of any success you may have.

3. If you haven't already begun, start your garden cleanup of spent annuals and removal of blossoms which have begun to fade.

4. Plant spring-blooming bulbs now.

5. Remove the bulbs of yellowed summer blooming plants and store them.

Tulips for Fall Planting

Gay expanses of graceful, bowing tulips signify Holland to many. However, here in California we have successfully adopted the lovely spring-blooming bulbs as our own. And now is the time, says the California Association of Nurserymen, to select and plant tulips for next year.

The use of these hardy, long-stemmed beauties are many: as container plants, for walk or around trees or shrubs they are lovely. The Dutch display their tulips in great fields of contrasting or blending colors and, although small gardens limit the space for bulbs, home owners can follow this example as area allows. Tulip plantings are most effective when drifts of two or three dozen bulbs are planted together.

When used as edgings for walks or lawns, tulips lend a formal note in contrast to the effect achieved by mixing flowers of uneven height and bloom size.

Darwin and Cottage tulips are the most popular varieties in California. They provide the widest range of colors and are best suited to our mild winters. Parrots are also popular varieties for their unusual appearance.

Darwins are large, egg-shaped flowers on 30 inch stems and come in many colors. The Cottage type of tulip, with pointed petals, offers the widest color range: white, reds, pinks, and yellows. Parrot tulips are exotic looking because of their frilled petals, brilliant colors and distinctive markings.

Although these three varities of tulips do well in our mild winter areas, they will provide even finer flowers if they are refrigerated for two weeks prior to planting.

Tulip bulbs should be planted in moist soil, two and one-half times as deep as the blub is wide and 4 or 5 inches apart in either groups or rows. In warmer areas it is advisable to plant blubs somewhat deeper. Although the ground for the bulbs should be enriched, no fertilizer should touch the blub. Organic material touching the blub can burn it. A good method of avoiding bulb burn is to place bone meal in the planting hole and then put a thin layer of soil over the bone meal before placing the blub down.

Since bulbs which receive proper care can easily be kept from year to year, the California Association of Nurserymen suggests the home gardener give tulips the same good care after bloom that they receive before bloom. This good care is a simple matter. All that tulips require is occasional irrigation (about every two weeks), a light application of fertilizer each month and regular insect and fungus control when the rest of the garden is treated. Just before blooming season, a good mulch should be watered down into the soil.

Fall Spraying

With the coming of Fall and the approaching dormancy of many of your garden subjects, you will, perhaps, find it difficult to occupy yourself about the garden. But, there is one thing you can do to great advantage. That is to examine the plants, shrubs and trees for garden pests and to take steps to eradicate them. This spraying job will be an easy one if you choose a good combination fungicide and multi-purpose insecticide. The California Association of Nurserymen recommend that you first examine your garden and then consult your local nurseryman for the proper spray for your particular problems—if any.

In addition to this fall spraying, this is the time of year to give roses a special dusting to rid them of pests.

A really thorough spraying is one that reaches every part of each garden plant which is being attacked or may be attacked. Anything less than this makes it possible that the entire process may be wasted. The home gardener should investigate the various spray attachments for hoses and other available rigs to see which are most effective for his garden problems.

Exact package directions must always be followed. In excess proportions sprays can be dangerous to humans, pets and plants. On the other hand, weak mixtures can be entirely ineffective. The package directions will tell exactly which pests will be "done in" and which will not.
